What iNet provides to Corporations?

Utilization with your Existing System

Without changing your existing system, you can benefit from already adapted integration services with other organizations.

Available Integrated Organizations

Integrations are already available for diverse corporations at iNet, moreover they are on top of the international standards. To use them, it's enough to become a member instead of attempting to implement them over again.

Change Management

iNet enables you not getting influenced by the changes occurred in other corporations. When you get integrated with many organizations, no changes burden you.

Faster and Controlled Information Sharing and Processing

You don't need to enter the data that comes from other corporations to your system over again. It lowers your workload and reduces your costs. It provides the control you desire.

Easy and Manageable Information Flow

You don't need to manage the transfer of the data sent to other corporations. The process of organizations you make business with also get faster.

Security

iNet has passed the security audits of international companies and can be personalized according to your needs.

Enhance Your Communication with Your Intermediaries, Service Providers and Customers

Why iNet Insurance Company Services?

Systems used within the insurance companies are the most complex ones to develop when compared to other sectors. As competition advances, sector grows and the regulations change, these systems become harder to operate and develop thus they become outsourced or operated within the companies taking into account substantial costs.

Due to the high number of agencies, brokers, service providers and corporate customers it becomes imperative to make integrated business with these organizations. Beside the insurance companies' own systems, integration and information sharing between other sector organizations are globally carried out under certain standards. Integrations without these standards expose the insurance companies either to be integrated with very few organizations or accept enormous costs.

iNet Insurance Company Services provide the companies with an important convenience and competitive advantage in this regard. You can manage your entire information network with other organizations through the services and structure of iNet. Thus you will not need to develop or operate these systems which are under the control of other companies on the other side.

Information Sharing with Organizations that You Make Business with

iNet provides services that will not only bring many benefits to you but also to the organizations you make business with. Organizations with stronger channels and service suppliers also become stronger.

You can use Any Service at Any Time

Common feature of iNet services is the ability to be used independently. Each service provides benefits with their structure designed not to replace your current system, but to complement it. You can start running any service at any time, and use it with monthly use charges. You may install iNet at your center by customizing or operate from the secure iNet service center like many other companies.

Number and benefits of iNet insurance company services increase by each day.
